

Crimson Rosella
Platycercus elegans

On the Bluff
Mainly Autumn - Winter

The bright crimson colour of the adult Crimson Rosella is very different to the olive-green plumage of juvenile birds. They predominantly feed on seeds. They are commonly seen during the winter months, but may be seen at any time. Unlike some parrots, they have a pleasant bell-like call.

Beak-to-tail: 32 – 37 cm

